CROSSFIELD NEWS ITEMS

Mrs. Kotow, who has been ill with flu for the past week, was taken to General Hospital on Sunday, March 30, where she will be treated for infection from the flu, which seems to have been of a virulent type.

The Starlight Chapter of the Eastern Star, Crossfield, held a very enjoyable one-night bridge tournament on Monday, March 31, in the Airdrie Community Hall, with 15 tables in play. Seven changes were played and after a delicious lunch at midnight, the winners were announced. Mrs. Stuart Hutchings and partner, Mr. Claude Deeks, won the high score with a total of 8540, whilst Mr. and Mrs. Chapman with a score of 7700 were runners-up. The low score of 1200 was turned in by Rudy Geik and Nat Clogg, whose luck had completely deserted them. A very nice china cake plate and a wallet were the prizes awarded the winners of first prize and to the second high, a hand painted vase and wallet. To the consolation winners, a small pen-knife and egg slicer. The road conditions were detrimental in not having the 20 tables that were planned, but everyone present had an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Ed. Fox has been on the sick list all week, suffering from swollen glands and a cold.

Mr. Frank Thompson and Miss

Barbara Bills were in Crossfield on Sunday.

Lawrence Lilley spent a couple of days in Edmonton last week.

Fourteen people from Crossfield attended LIONO at the corral last Saturday evening, and all sat together to enjoy the interesting game of bingo. The prizes were extremely good but none of the Wiggles, Woods, W. Landymores, C. Foxes, or Lilleys were able to click on the bingos. In fact B. Lilley, with tears in his eyes and only the free square with a mark on it, was dismayed to see the beautiful fishing outfit go to a lady.

The East Red Cross group met at the home of Mrs. Albert Heine recently with 13 members and two visitors present. The group has for its objective this year, the raising of $150.00. During the afternoon 517 blood clinic wipes were made and several Red Cross garments were cut out for sewing. The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Hehr with 10 members present, and 570 clinic wipes were made and a quantity of sewing distributed.

Joe Clasel is living in the Walter Stewart farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fraser entertained in their home on Thursday last at a delicious dinner bridge at which 12 guests were seated. Three tables of bridge were played and top honors went to Mrs. Hugo Ballam and Bert Lilley, while consolations were handed to Mrs. C. Fox and Mr. Hugo Ballam. A very tasty midnight lunch was enjoyed.

Mrs. Bert Lilley was hostess to the Afternoon Bridge Club members on Wednesday last. Honors were shared by Mrs. Ed. Fraser and Mrs. Dewey Casey, whose scores ran fairly high. Tea was served at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Brock Campbell entertained the members of the Stork Bridge Club on Thursday evening of last week. A tasty midnight lunch was served and top scores were handed to Mrs. Arnold Mansel and Mrs. George McDonald. Due to illness there were five substitutes present.

Crossfield was very sorry to hear that another of its old-timers had suffered a stroke. Mr. George Ainscough, who lived east of town for years, is a patient in a Calgary hospital.

Those who knew Jack Moore, inspector of scales, will be sorry to hear that he has lost his wife, Ethel, due to a heart ailment. The former Ethel Bannister was known to a great many Crossfielders being the daughter of Mrs. Annie Bannister, who attended Old-Timers here until her death two years ago. Walter Birney is an uncle of the deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Purvis have returned home from their honeymoon in Eastern Canada and the States.

Miss Ada Jensen has been absent from her work in the Canadian Bank of Commerce due to illness, and her doctor has ordered her to take a little rest. Ada had several X-rays in Didsbury, which point to a touchy appendix. It is hoped that a little rest will clear up the inflammation, and that she will soon be back to work.

Gerald Hurt has a position as electrician in Calgary, and at the present is working in the Dominion which is being completely changed.

POINT KULVE

LOUP CITY, Neb. — The Rev. Culver J. Warner, pastor of Loup City's Methodist Church, announced his sermon topic for a coming Sunday would be "The Creative Process." But on the Saturday before the sermon Mrs. Warner stole his thunder. She presented him with a 7½-pound daughter.

MADDEN MURMURS

Mrs. Ray Havens recently spent a few days in Edmonton where she visited her sister, Rev. Mary Walsh, who returned with her to renew acquaintances in Madden and Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. McNichol motored to Edmonton Sunday of last week to bring home their son, Jimmie, who had been a patient in the University Hospital for 10 days.

The Madden Ladies Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Dodd and the members decided to sponsor a whist drive and pie social on Wednesday April 16 in the Madden hall.

Don't forget the "Sunrise Service" at 7:30 a.m. with breakfast in church basement. At 9:00 a.m. regular service will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox entertained in their home on Sunday last when 20 of their relatives were seated to a delicious belated New Year's dinner. The guests included the Ruddys, Robinsons, Ablemans, Oneils together with their own son Gordon and wife, and a Miss Miller from Calgary. It was a very pleasant reunion and all had a wonderful time.

Oddfellows, Rebekahs Have Social Evening

CROSSFIELD — On April 2 the Oddfellows and Rebekahs held an enjoyable social evening, after each organization had completed its business routine for the month. Mr. William McCrimmon brought a car load of Rebekahs from Calgary, who were glad to attend their lodge once again. These ladies have all moved to Calgary during the year: Mesdames Wigle, Pullan, McCrimmon and Ableman. Mrs. McCrimmon, as representative to the Rebekah Assembly in March, gave a very interesting report of the sessions held in Calgary.

The social evening, started with games for young and old, followed by two piano duets by Mrs. Winifred Bailey and her daughter, Helen. Guessing games were played, using all the Rebekah names as answers, which caused plenty of merriment. This was followed by bingo which was keenly contested.

A refreshing midnight lunch was served by the Rebekahs and much enjoyed.

Better Seed... Better Crops

This advice to farmers goes back for thousands of years. It is still true today. The best seed obtainable is Registered seed, guaranteed for purity, truthness-to-variety and high germination by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association and Plant Products Division of the Dominion Government.

On The Down Trend

Prices of most farm products have been on the down trend since the beginning of the year.

The outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Saskatchewan "played hob" with meat prices.

The prices of eggs and other poultry have dropped.

The price of dairy products may go down because of U.S. embargo against imports from Canada.

Even the price of wheat has gone down, due to the rise in the value of the Canadian dollar.

All this means that Canadian farmers are taking substantial wage cuts at the present time.

All Work — No Pay

Frankly, we feel it's just about time that Ottawa started contributing to the payroll of our staff, particularly the office end of it.

As a matter of fact, the amount of work done for the government, and the time involved, makes us feel that we're already on the government's payroll; it's simply someone has merely forgotten to send us the weekly cheque.

Many, many hours are spent on behalf of the government each month, and not only do we not get paid for it, it invariably comes out that we have to pay them more.

There's the matter of sales tax, for example. Nearly every bit of printing done requires sales tax. We figure it out, record it, take the dirty looks as a result of someone being asked to pay it, and use up our cheques and our stamps, and letterhead, to send the money in to Ottawa. And to crown it all, we have to pay for a license to act as Ottawa's collecting agency.

Then there's the matter of unemployment insurance and the hours of figuring and stamp-licking and what-not that goes into that. No thanks, mind you, or a slight cut for our efforts. Merely a blast if the thing isn't done correctly. And, of course, there's income tax, and innumerable reports required now and then.

Our staff is probably doing all this because the paid civil servants are now working on a 35-hour week, or is it 30? We'd like that, too — before we qualify for that new pension that begins for everyone at 70 — if we make it.

Why Not, Ladies?

It is some thirty-five years since Canadian women first voted in a federal election. During the years that the ladies fought for the franchise their leaders promised great things for the nation if the women received the right to vote. That promise, somehow, has not been fulfilled.

Women have not taken the part in local, provincial and federal affairs that they might have. In this country there are several million women . . . few have ever served on municipal councils, on school boards, in the legislature or in parliament. Why?

We think that women should get into public life for they have much good common sense, much organizational ability, much executive ability, that the country needs.

Why not women on our school boards and our town and rural councils? There are many ladies in our community who would be real assets to any board or council.

We wonder why the ladies of the nation have not been more active in public life. In their own organizations they do a wonderful job; why should they not focus their abilities on larger spheres of action?

Women are no longer tied to their homes, burdened with housekeeping toil—modern science and invention has released them from that. They have taken their place in business, in industry, in the professions, but to only a minor degree in public life.

The welfare of Canada demands the interest and active participation of women in local and national affairs. How about it, ladies?

A Place For Flax

Farmers are advised by A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner, Alberta department of agriculture, not to overlook the advantages of flax as a crop during the coming season. Although flax is not a widely grown crop in Alberta, those who are accustomed to its production have found it profitable. No quotas have been established for flax, and it is a crop that is readily converted into cash.

Seeding midway through the normal period of planting wheat is recommended for flax. Later seedings results in late maturity and difficulty is encountered in harvesting a crop of flax that is not well ripened, particularly when combine methods are employed. The Redwing variety is recommended for central and northern areas of the province. In the south, Dakota and Royal may give greater yields. Royal branches readily, however, and even though the main part of the plant may be entirely mature, unripened stems may create harvesting problems. In spite of these minor difficulties, flax is worth growing and some thought might well be given to its production when considering the cropping program this year.

Easter In A World Of Sin

The central story of the Christian world is being reviewed for us these days. It is the story of Easter—the foundation upon which the Christian gospel is based.

Easter, first of all, is the story of the initial, apparent triumph of evil. Powerful men motivated by evil designs—strange bedfellows, many of them—combined to send Christ to the Cross. It looked like the finish of His small team of faithful men, and for the new ideas they were bringing to the world.

Today some groups would tell us that the world is getting better day by day, closing their eyes in ostrich fashion to the facts of a hellish war in Korea and a tormenting war of nerves existing today everywhere else.

If the gospel of Jesus Christ did not triumph over the material world in His day, it has not won the battle to do so today. In fact, Jesus never claimed He was going to reform the world, and today there are plenty of men in high places who would crucify Him again if they had the opportunity.

The Christian Bible says that "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." For the individual soul He gave His life's blood on Calvary's Cross. When wicked hands had put Him to death, they thought they had had the victory. They didn't realize that His kingdom was to be a spiritual kingdom, and not an earthly empire. These men didn't know His power of Resurrection. Hence, the man who had seemed the greatest failure of His day became the greatest success through all ages.

But, from the first to last, the Gospel of Jesus Christ makes its appeal to the individual. He said He did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. In this world of sin, the sinner who sees the Saviour crucified for him, and believes in the Christian Gospel to save him from his lost condition as a sinner, has secured for himself the Resurrection.

Note and Comment

Despite all the talk of new and fantastic weapons, Canadian soldiers are still squatting in the mud with rifles, killing and getting killed in the same old fashion.

SURFACE RIGHTS AND THE FARMER

By HENRY YOUNG

President, Farmers' Union of Alberta

The question of what compensation the farmer who holds no mineral rights should get from oil companies has been smoldering since 1947. There are some signs now that it may erupt into flame.

Following the discovery of the Leduc Oil Field, the policy of the Oil Companies was to give the farmer practically nothing for land used and inconvenience caused by drilling and all that goes with it. The Oil Companies occupied the area and acted much like the conquering army of a foreign power, with little heed for such rights as farmers still possessed.

This naturally led to fierce resentment and groups were formed in the areas affected to demand a better deal for surface owners. Unfortunately the various local organizations which sprang up did not agree upon a unified policy. There were sporadic demands for a share of the royalties for all surface owners. However one group asked for one per cent while another wanted three per cent and so forth. Lack of agreement prevented progress on this line.

Later a committee from the Leduc field contacted the Farmers' Union and drew up a program which the Union Executive helped them to present to the Provincial Government. Under this program adequate compensation was the main point stressed. There was also an alternative under which a farmer could take cash settlement for his whole quarter section if he wished to. These two points are still the basis of the Farmers' Union demand on this question.

Following the pressure brought upon the Government by the Union, the Board of Arbitration which had been set up by the Provincial Government began to adopt a much more liberal policy toward the farmer, and awards were made which went some distance towards meeting their demands. However the request for a cash settlement as an alternative has never been conceded.

For the last two years the F. U. A. has urged this policy upon the Government. We have been met with the argument that the Board of Arbitration was giving farmers all that was coming to them and that the farmers were satisfied with the present setup. Since the majority of Alberta farmers do not belong to any organization the Government naturally infers this.

Now as the oilfields are being extended people are beginning to realize the fabulous profits which are accruing to oil companies from each good well. Some estimators have placed this as high as two million dollars per well in a good field. Naturally the demand for a better deal for surface owners is showing signs of revival.

Word has just reached us of the organization of a Surface Rights Association in the Falun area. Others may follow. If they do it is to be hoped that this time they will get together and work out a basis of demands on which they will all agree and which will suit farmers generally. So far there has been no suggestion of anything different from what is embodied in our program. However what is needed is some clear definition of what "Adequate Compensation" is.

The Farmers' Union of Alberta is certainly prepared to co-operate to the full with surface rights groups to obtain a better deal for farmers. At the same time it is well to point out that for the purpose of getting action from the Government what is needed is an organization representing a majority of farmers of Alberta. This can be achieved through strengthening the unions and all farmers interested in a better deal on surface rights should get into the union even if they also belong to a Surface Rights Group. Since only the oil development areas are directly concerned with this particular question, they will need the backing of a province-wide organization to get results. The situation calls for close co-operation in the interests of all concerned.

Voice of the People

BOOZE AND THE PRINTER

Out in Missouri a farmer gave a printing office an order for sale bills. The job was promised for June 30th. The date being the last day before the prolonged drought started.

The printer decided to take a few drinks. He took several. Then he happened to remember the bills that were promised for delivery that day and staggered to the office to get out the job.

The farmer called for the bills, paid for them, and took them home. Next day he started to put them up, and this is what he read when he came to the list of articles for sale:

Twenty-five cows broke to work; 41 head of cultivators coming in soon; 10 head of shovelling boards with scoops at side; 8 piano mares; 120 rods canvas belting; better than new; De Laval cow with ice cream attachment; McCormick binder in foal; Poland chine bobsled due to farrow in April; 14 head of chickens with grass seed attachments, in good working order; 2 J. I. Case riding heifers, good as new; spraying outfit, can be ridden by children; 15 Billy goats, 70 bushels capacity with spraying nozzle and other attachments. Many other articles too numerous to mention, which I expect to get at night between now and date of sale.

FREEDOM FOR HEALTH

Re. letter of E. Dixon, I not only heard Mr. Ross's broadcast but also inspired that ill-considered masterpiece by writing a one man's viewpoint and sending it to him. In my fight against certain cooking utensils I am not offering anything for sale, not even folders. I am just so happy that we regained our health that I want to tell everybody.

We have small groups of experimenters from coast to coast and the results of their experiments will spread by the grapevine telegraph, in spite of suppression by the press.

Our Ontario group is headed by a man who killed his cat with some soup he cooked and left standing in aluminum for two or three days.

ANY ADVICE, GENTS?

I have always written faithfully to my boy friend in the service. But he's about to go overseas, and the thought of not seeing him, plus the talk of all the pretty girls on the other side, has me worried. Maybe some of the fellows can give me the real lowdown on what's with those girls. Shall I tear my hair out worrying, or is this fear just silly?

BEWILDERED GAL.

HAPPY WITH ERNIE

I don't know what to think of any true Albertan who votes any other way but Social Credit. I'll stick my ballot in for S.C. any day—whether the wealthy oil companies pay into the party funds or not. Ernest Manning is the best Premier this, or any other province, ever had, bar none.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

New Problem For Dairymen
 "Do you keep any calves?" the new city mother inquired anxiously of the milkman.
 "Why, yes, ma'am, I do," was the reply.
 "Ah, good!" the young mother heaved a sigh of relief. "Then please bring me a pint of calf's milk every day. I'm afraid cow's milk is a little too strong for my baby."

Frank
 Father: "My boy, I never kissed a girl until I met your mother.
 Will you be able to say the same thing to your son?" Junior: "Yes, Dad. But not with such a straight face."

Careless Man
 "Who broke your window, Mrs.
 Johnson?"
 "My husband, dear. He duck-ed."

Cud Be!
 A city girl visited the farm for the first time and was fascinated by the cows. She stood for a long time watching them chew and then exclaimed: "It seems to keep them contentedly, but doesn't it cost a lot of money to provide chewing gum for all those cows?"

Used To It
 "Just why do you want a married man to work for you, rather than a bachelor?" asked the currious friend.
 "Well," sighed the employer,
 "the married men don't get so upset if I yell at them."

Rare Jewel
 Pete: "I'm going to get a divorce. My wife hasn't spoken to me in six months."
 Al: "Better think twice. Wives like that are hard to find."

Virtue's Reward
 "You did me a favor ten years ago," said the old tramp, "and I never forgot it."
 "Oh," replied the good man, very pleased with himself, "and you have come back after all these years to repay me?"
 "Well, no," said the tramp, "I just got into town and need another favor. So I thought of you right away."

Stinks
 A drunk lying on the floor of a bar began to show signs of life, so one of the customers smeared a little limburger cheese on his upper lip. The drunk arose slowly and walked out of the door. In a few minutes he came back in.
 Then he went out again only to return in a few more minutes.
 Shaking his head with disgust, he said: "It's no use, the whole world stinks."

Cancer Curbs Seen In 7 Danger Signs

About 16 thousand Canadians died of cancer last year—and more than five thousand of these deaths were needless.

The lives were forfeited to ignorance or delay, according to the Canadian Cancer Society. Successful management of cancer begins with the patient, the Society says, since the disease must be found in an early stage for treatment to be effective.

An important part of the Cancer Society programme consists of teaching the public cancer's seven danger signals. They are:
 1. Any sore that does not heal.
 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
 3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
 4. Any change in a wart or mole.
 5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
 6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
 7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

The appearance of any of these symptoms does not mean, of course, that cancer is invariably present, but a doctor should be consulted immediately. Since untreated cancer always spreads, delay is serious.

This year the Canadian Cancer Society hopes to reach every Canadian home with its life saving information about cancer. The funds that support this public education programme are provided by gifts to the Cancer Crusade.

EMPERESS OF SCOTLAND at New York: The 26,300-ton Canadian Pacific luxury liner Empress of Scotland, shown here passing the Statue of Liberty at New York, has been scheduled for three sunshine cruises from New York to the storied Caribbean this winter. She left for the Spanish Main for her first 16-day cruise on Feb. 1, following this with trips on Feb. 20 and March 8. Prior to starting her cruise season, the white-hulled flagship had the honor of carrying Princess Elizabeth (now Queen Elizabeth II) and the Duke of Edinburgh back to England following their tour of Canada. New ports of call in the Virgin Islands and Barbadoes have been added to this year's cruise itineraries. (Canadian Pacific Railway Photo).

THIS LOVELY NEGLIGEE in nylon net, worn over a graceful nightdress in nylon tricot, both by Slenderella of Cheapside, London, will be shown in the textile section of the 1952 British Industries Fair from May 5 to 16. Part of the British Nylon Spinners Limited display, both negligee and nightdress were inspired by a dress worn by the Empress Poppaea. Nero's wife, in the film, "Quo Vadis."

Perfect Tuna Casserole

IF ever a dish deserved the compliment, "How Perfect," this tuna combination is it. One try and you'll see. It's so perfectly easy to make, perfectly good to eat.

The luscious flavor team of condensed cream of mushroom soup and tuna give the fish its high-powered come-on for eaters. And if you want a Lenten dish just use cream of celery soup instead of mushroom. Results are equally pleasing.

Right on your kitchen shelf, you can keep the makings for this one. A can each of mushroom soup, tuna, and green peas—plus a bag of potato chips. It turns supper into something special, is a perfect choice for luncheon parties. The cost will cheer you too.

Perfect Tuna Casserole

- 1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 1/2-lb. can (4 cups) tuna, drained and carefully flaked
- 1 1/2 cups crushed potato chips
- 1 cup cooked green peas, drained

Empty soup into a small casserole; add milk and mix thoroughly. Add tuna, 1 cup potato chips and peas to soup; stir well. Sprinkle top with remaining 1/2 cup potato chips. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings. Garnish with whole potato chips around edge if desired. Note: For Lent, use condensed cream of celery soup instead of mushroom soup.

SOUP SCOOPS

Springtime Garnish For Soup: Cream of celery soup looks all dressed up for spring with a bright green garnish like chopped chives or parsley. Treat the family to this on St. Patrick's Day or the First Day of Spring.

Hi-Hat Spaghetti Casserole: A Lenten dinner to be proud of is this. Pour 2 cans (3 1/2 cups) of spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese into an ungreased 1 1/2-quart casserole; place in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 20 minutes. Meanwhile beat 4 egg yolks lightly; combine with 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese. Beat 4 egg whites until stiff; fold in yolks. Pile eggs on top of spaghetti; continue baking at 375° F. for 20 minutes or until lightly browned. 6 servings.

"Soup-Prise" For Lent: A soup combination that calls for extra big bowls is made by mixing 1 can each of condensed cream of mushroom and cream of celery soups. Add 1 can of milk slowly, stirring constantly. Simmer about 5 minutes.

HMCS SIOUX, back in Canada after completing a second tour of duty in the Far East, is shown above making her way through an ice field during her last patrol off the West Coast of Korea. Operating with a task unit close inshore, the Sioux spent her last patrol defending islands north of the 38th parallel. She returned to Esquimalt, B.C., early in March. (National Defence Photo).

Senator Discusses Freight Rates
At U. of A.The University Liberal Study Group was addressed recently by Senator J. W. Stambaugh on the subject of freight rates. The meeting took place in the mixed lounge of the Students' Union building. Bill Abercrombie of Calgary was in the chair.The Senator outlined the problems connected with freight rates in Alberta and explained to the students the action of the Senate in turning down an amendment to the act which would have caused an increase in rates in the western provinces.A question period followed the address.Teachers To Attend

During the past several weeks teachers have been meeting in their delegates and advising them on procedure in connection with the various resolutions to be brought down at the three-day meeting.The seventy-three resolutions will be presented in four sections:

resolutions on policy; resolutions

Ace On Western MusicCALGARY—(BUP) — Beverly Bandur, a Calgary truck driver, is a one-man music business.Western music is his field. He composes, leads his own western orchestra, and makes guitars.Bandur, who learned woodworking in high school at St. Catharines, Ont., makes the guitars in a basement workshop in his home.
He was offered $400 for one of them.Most of the instruments bring from $125 to $150. Bandur says he "can't keep up with the demand."But he's stepping up his output with the aid of a six-in-one lathe and says, "We'll soon have things rolling mass production."He first started making the instruments in 1937, but really got rolling in 1944. His own guitar was made in three months of his spare time, with a spokeshave, a plane and a pocket knife.Bands and sides of the instruments are made with mahogany while the top is edge grain spruce.
The trimming is mother-of-pearl.One member of the singing "Sons of the Pioneers" once tried Bandur's own guitar and said it was the "best guitar he had ever seen."His instruments have been used by such cowboy singing stars as Stu Davis, Vic Siebert and Bob Hornby.Bandur sings and plays guitar in his own quintet, the "Alberta Roughriders." He has written 12 songs to date, and although none of them was published, he is copyrighting his latest before trying to sell it.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa—My husband and I quarrel continually and as we have only one child, both of us try to get him on our side. He has become very nervous and I wonder if our behavior has had anything to do with it. Do you think it would be better for us to separate? You are always writing that a child needs both his father and mother but what do you think of this situation?

PUZZLED WIFE.

Answer:

A child does need both his father and mother and the greatest thing they can give him is a deep sense of security which comes from a harmonious home. If he has the feeling that no matter what happens elsewhere his home is a fortress into which he can always come and find sympathy, understanding and safety, he will be possessed of something invaluable.

It is impossible for him to have this feeling if his home is one of continual friction and bickering. He never knows what to expect from day to day and his sense of security is lost.

But you are doing a terrible thing to your child when you bring him into your quarrel and try to make him choose between the two people he loves most in the world. It is a wonder that he is not a nervous wreck by now.

The trouble with you and your husband is that you are just plain selfish. You put yourselves first and your child last. You are so much more concerned with your own selves than you are about what is happening to him. Just so that you can work off that bad mood, have the last word or make some mean come-back you do so regardless of the consequences.

Why don't you and your husband learn to control yourselves? We can't help it if some people irritate us but we can refrain from having a row. It takes two people to have a quarrel you know. Both of you should talk this matter over. If your disagreements come from some important issue, you should have an understanding about it and settle it once for all. If they come from trivial matters, make a bargain never to bicker about them before your child and never never belittle each other to that child. If you don't think your husband is such a fine character, let your child find it out for himself, but do everything in your power to let him think he is all right. It is better for him that way.

If you will stop being critical of each other and try to find some things to praise and admire in each other, you may discover that you are still in love with each other.

Sincerely,
LOUISA.

Advertiser Runs Every Week For 46 Years

Twenty-three years ago The Colorado Editor ran a story about the ideal advertiser who had run advertising every week since 1905 in the Steamboat Springs (Colo.) Steamboat Pilot, always paid in advance, always had copy in well ahead of time and regularly budgeted 1 per cent of gross sales to advertising.

The advertiser was F. M. Light & Son, Clothiers.

A recent check-up with Maurice Leckenby, publisher of the Pilot, shows that the record has continued unbroken—the store still has not missed an issue since 1905.

Calling the clothier's advertising "the kind that all newspapermen dream about but few ever find," Mr. Leckenby wrote:

"The store had a modest beginning in 1905 when Steamboat Springs was a town of a few hundred population and the country was in its pioneer stages. Without a railroad and very few roads, F. M. Light came to Steamboat for his health from Ohio, where he had been a school teacher. His small clothing store had a perilous time for a few years but Mr. Light stuck with his advertising and was constantly telling northwestern Colorado about the advantages of trading at his store.

"Today it is a store that is known far beyond the borders of Steamboat Springs and Routt county. Light keeps the post office busy sending Levis, Stetsons, saddles, cowboy equipment, Western togs as well as standard men's wear to several states. Using his Pilot advertising to get a foothold at home, Mr. Light and his sons constantly kept expanding and letting more and more people know about Light's, a truly Western store.

"It is a small store in a small town in Colorado, but it has a gross income that would make many city stores envious. The Light sons do not tell their business, but it is estimated the store takes in a quarter of a million dollars a year.

"It is a successful business because advertising has been given its proper place and coupled with fair dealing on a strictly cash basis and a thorough knowledge of the wear that a Western man wants, it has and will continue to grow."

"Oh, what a surprise this is!" I exclaimed, walking in on a bridal shower given for me. Then, without thinking, I asked "Where is my sister?" She said she would be here."

One day my sister and I were playing outside and suddenly I heard a voice calling to me. Thinking it was my sister, I said, "You silly fool you" and, turning around, I saw my friend from the city. Was I ever embarrassed—

Kerry Wood, Alberta Author, Releases New Book On Preservation Of Wild Life

Every community should set aside a beauty spot as a wildlife preserve, according to Kerry Wood of Red Deer. This Alberta naturalist makes a strong plea for the idea in a new nature book which he has just published.

In the pages of "The Sanctuary," you will read about the history of an attractive strip of wilderness, preserved in all its natural beauty by a pioneer farmer since homestead days of 1885 until finally given government protection today as a bird and animal sanctuary. The book contains a fascinating account of Indian lore, besides giving first hand observations of plant and animal and insect life encountered while visiting the refuge. The whole story presented in an entertaining and sometimes hilarious human-interest style of writing that will appeal to young and old alike. But in the final chapter, Mr. Wood sums up his basic theme: that every city, town, or rural district of Western Canada should preserve in sanctuary form one or more of its finest beauty spots before it is too late.

Here's what Mr. W. B. Dawe, Assistant Principal of the well known Composite High School of Red Deer, writes about the new book:

The eager run of youth, the firm tread of manhood, the dignified gait of middle life, and the slow steps of age have all known The Sanctuary path. In this unspoiled bit of wilderness one meets a blind doe, a friendly Indian, and a furtive mink. There is a description of the development of a refuge and, unconsciously a revealing account of a boy's growth from callow youth to mature manhood. The subtle influence of a contact with nature moulds the lad's character and even his habits of thought.

Graphic and accurate descriptions of little-known aspects of nature, (for example, the marsh hawks transferring food in mid-air, make even the city dweller realize the world of wonders awaiting

250,000 Canadians Get Free Blood Transfusions

TORONTO—More than a quarter of a million Canadians have received free blood or plasma transfusions through the Canadian Red Cross free national Blood Transfusion Service, Vernon C. Hale, national chairman of the Blood Donor committee, announced on the eve of the Society's annual national appeal for $5,222,000.

"In cold dollars and cents our service has saved Canadians, in the former cost of medical care alone, a sum far greater than the total amount we are campaigning for to cover all Red Cross services this year," the chairman declared. "But it is in the contribution to suffering humanity and in the saving of human lives that our real progress can be measured."

A total of 282,136 patients in Canada have received free transfusions since the start of the service in 1947, and a total of 648,790 bottles have been donated by the public in the same period.

In 1951, when the service had grown to include eight provinces, although only portions of Ontario and Quebec, 110,136 patients received transfusions and 263,000 bottles of blood were collected. With the opening of a depot in Saskatchewan this year, the service will operate in all provinces except Newfoundland.

In addition to the civilian service, the government has made Red Cross the sole agency for the procurement of blood and blood products, including plasma, for the fighting men of Canada at home and abroad. More than 6,000 bottles of plasma have already been delivered to the Department of National Defence under this agreement.

Love Conquers All

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—Mrs. Della Skinner, 71-year-old widow who advertised for a job as housekeeper, found a husband, John T. Hiller, widower, who is still a travelling salesman at 80, hired her. She had worked for him only five days when he proposed marriage. The wedding followed within a few days. Hiller intends to employ a maid for his bride.

ing so near at hand. The plea for conservation takes on a new meaning after one reads Kerry Wood's book.

The author obtains his title from a 230-acre preserve for wildlife, but I think he has a deeper meaning: Save a piece of "unimproved" wilderness not only as a haven for birds and animals, but also as a sanctuary for man, where for at least a brief time he can forget the battering and bewildering forces of the modern world, and in spirit come closer to old Earth, the great mother of us all.

"The Sanctuary" is amusingly illustrated with cartoon-like drawings which will delight the younger readers. You may get autographed copies direct from the author, Kerry Wood of Red Deer, Alta. The book totals 106 pages, 28 illustrations, and is priced at $1.50 post-paid.

Beautiful Baby

THE DARLING of the Chalifoux household, in Morinville, is seven-months-old Pauline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chalifoux.

An Ancient Disease

Foot and mouth disease (a virus named Aphthae Epizootica) a virulent contagious and apparently incurable malady of animals, has for the first time in history struck in Canada. This disease was known to the ancients and no doubt ravaged the herds and flocks of old. The Bible—Exodus 9:3 says 'Behold the hand of the Lord is upon the cattle—there shall be a very grievous murrain.' (Murrain is an ancient word for an infectious disease of cattle.)

Virgil, an ancient Roman writer on agriculture, tells us: "A grievous epidemic fell, every tribe of cattle and wild thing was given to death—the ox groaning out his life while bloody foam falls from out his mouth—medicine men give up the fight—until men learn to bury them (the cattle) in pits and earth them over."

Since the 17th Century the foot and mouth disease has ravaged all European countries including Britain. Epidemics have occurred from time to time in Mexico, the United States, Australia and Asia. The disease begins suddenly and spreads very rapidly. Animals suffer and do not put on weight. The flow of milk greatly decreases. Quick isolation and the slaughtering of animals, the burning of bedding and the disinfection of barns, pens and indeed of the whole farm, has so far been the only remedy.

Support Growing For Floor Prices

Recently mass meetings of farmers have been held under the auspices of the Farmers' Union of Alberta at a large number of Alberta points. These meetings have been held to discuss the livestock marketing crisis arising from the inter-provincial embargoes, and other farm problems. At all of these meetings, resolutions have been passed urging immediate action by the Federal authorities to implement floor prices of $23.50 on top steers and $25.00 on fat lambs, basis Alberta points. Also that the Federal Government act at once to end the present illegal and indefensible interprovincial embargoes.

Another resolution passed, calls for the establishment of the floor price of $25.00 on hogs to be made uniform across Canada.

Other points discussed have been the renewal of the International Wheat Agreement and the Domestic price of wheat. On the IWA there is general agreement that if it is to be extended, a much higher floor and ceiling price must be insisted upon with provision for revision from year to year. On the domestic price of wheat in Canada, there is general insistence that this shall be completely separated from the export price, and based upon costs of production within Canada.

These demands were pressed upon the Federal Government by a delegation from the three Western Farm Unions which interviewed Hon. C. D. Howe, Hon. Mr. Gardiner and several other ministers, at Ottawa.

CANADA'S NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL URGES SUPPORT CANCER CAMPAIGN

Proclaiming April as "Cancer Month" across the country—the Governor-General, His Excellency the Hon. Vincent Massey, has called for the support of all Canadian citizens in the Canadian Cancer Society's Cancer Crusade.

The message, issued from Government House this week, read as follows:

"This is the time of year when the great body of Canadian men and women engaged in the fight against cancer review and renew their efforts—April is Cancer Month in Canada.

"The public will learn a great deal during the next thirty days of what has been done, and what is planned, in the field of cancer. But the effort itself knows no season.

"At this moment several hundred Canadian scientists, with the assistance of the Canadian Cancer Society, are working tirelessly in universities and hospitals across Canada in their search for the cause and cure of cancer.

"These able workers have already contributed to advances in the treatment of the disease. However, if we are to make the most of these advances, it is important that diagnosis be made and treatment given at an early stage of the disease. To this end, the Canadian Cancer Society conducts an ever expanding educational program to bring the facts about cancer to the public.

"In cancer, as in all chronic diseases, patients and their dependents may face problems which can be solved only by a helping hand which provides sick room supplies, family care, or transportation to and from clinics. These and other services are tangible contributions being made by the many voluntary workers who devote their time and effort to the welfare work of the Society in hundreds of Canadian communities.

"The Canadian Cancer Society's noble work of assisting medical research, informing the public and helping the sick, is worthy of the support of us all."

PUTTING PEP IN CROPS

The fertility of your soil is like a bank account.
You can't keep taking it out, without putting some back in.

Today's demands for more production and greater yield at lower cost need the proper use fields and all areas where produce is grown. These fertilizers will help replace in the soil those minerals so essential to plant growth.
